

Watching a conference online - How does it work?

Unable to make it to the conference? Joining in on-line is easy. Just follow the steps below and you can be part of world-wide conference in real-time.

1. Please register on www.orbsmeetings.com as an online viewer.
2. About one week before the conference starts, you will be sent instructions on how to create an OrbsWeb account which is necessary in order to view the conference. If you already have an OrbsWeb account, please ensure that you used the same email address when registering for the conference and when signing up for OrbsWeb.
3. You will be sent a link to the online portal. The portal can also be accessed via the home page of Orbsweb, under the heading: current meetings. Please press the button: watch now.

FAQ's

What happens if I register during the conference?

Please note, if you sign up on the day of the conference, there will be a short delay before you have access to the live stream. However, this is not an issue as you are able to re-wind and watch previous sessions. See below.

How long is the live stream available for?

You can watch the conference in real-time, however you are also re-wind and watch sessions at a later time. The video presentations and live surgery will be available for three months to watch at your leisure.

Will I have access to other OrbsWeb content?

Yes. As an attendee of the online meeting, you will be given free premium access to OrbsWeb. To find out about the different levels of OrbsWeb access, please click here.
